FEMA Housing Inspectors Expected in Tuntutuliak and Nunam Iqua

ANCHORAGE, Alaska - Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Housing Inspectors are expecting to be in Tuntutuliak and Nunam Iqua on Tuesday, Oct. 18, weather permitting, to help survivors register for FEMA assistance and perform housing inspections for applicants who experienced damage from the Sept. 15 - 20 severe storms, flooding and landslides.

Teams will travel to these villages to register survivors for disaster assistance and answer questions about the application process and what happens next. Immediately following registration, housing inspectors will travel to the applicants' homes to perform a home inspection. Residents should know that FEMA staff will have appropriate federal identification and will never charge for assistance.

If survivors are unable to apply with FEMA specialists working in the field, they can also register by calling 1-866-342-1699, or by visiting www.disasterassistance.gov. When calling, Press 1 for English, 2 for Spanish and 3 for all other languages. TTY callers dial 711 or, if you are calling from an out-of-state area code, dial 1-800-770-8973 for Alaska relay service.
