Significant Issues:

Lowell Point Landslide

Lowell Point Road is expected to reopen to traffic on Friday, May 27th at noon. This will be followed by intermittent closures to continue debris clearing and repairs.

River Watch 2022

The SEOC deployed a team to the communities of Glennallen, Gulkana, and Copperville Tuesday to meet with community leaders and survey the areas impacted by flooding. They were able to provide technical guidance and advice to the community as they move from response to recovery.

The 2022 Spring Floods, the 2022 Lowell Point Landslide in the City of Seward, and the Galena Fire Hall roof collapse will now be eligible for State of Alaska disaster recovery programs. Individuals and families can now apply for state disaster grants. See <https://ready.alaska.gov/> for details.

The Riverwatch teams have been demobilized, and have transitioned to flood response and recovery. Continuing to monitor for potential snowmelt flooding concerns.

Bi-weekly incident specific River Watch Situation Reports are produced on Tuesday and Thursday each week and disseminated the following day. They are also available online at:
