

SMALL COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN TOOLKIT FOR UNINCORPORATED REGIONS

The Small Community Emergency Response Plan (SCERP) is a quick reference guide for use before, during, and after an emergency or disaster. The SCERP contains checklists for critical actions at the local level, customized for, and by, your community. The SCERP contains important resource information including; local, regional, state, and federal contact information.

The Small Community Emergency Response Plan Toolkit contains suggestions to complete the community information the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management will use to customize your community's SCERP. The toolkit includes all the information your planning team will need to provide.

Visit <http://ready.alaska.gov/plans/SCERP> for more information.

SMALL COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN TOOLKIT

Incidents (emergencies and disasters) start and end locally. Every community must be prepared and able to respond until help arrives.

An incident is an occurrence or event, natural or human-caused, which requires a response to protect life or property.

An emergency is a situation that requires immediate attention, but may not exceed the capability of the local responders.

By statute, “disaster”, means the occurrence or imminent threat of widespread or severe damage, injury, loss of life or property, or shortage of food, water, or fuel resulting from: ...” Alaska Statute 26.23.900.

The best time to plan is now! Here are some tips to get started with emergency planning, efforts that will lead to customized SCERP flip books for your community.
