Significant Weather:

A large winter storm is currently impacting the west coast. Blizzard warnings have been issued for the Western Arctic Coast, Southern Seward Peninsula, St. Lawrence Island, and the Bering Strait Coast through 9 AM Today. Winds gusting as high as 60-70 MPH have caused white out conditions. with significant snow drifts. Additionally, Winter Storm Warnings have been issued for Kotzebue Sound and the Western Interior for Wednesday. Heavy snow is expected with gusts up to 55-65 MPH, which will cause areas of blowing and drifting snow and lowered visibility.

Multiple Winter Storm Warnings, Watches, and Advisories are in effect for most of the Central and Eastern Interior and Alaska Range, including Fairbanks, as this storm progresses eastward through Wednesday and Thursday.

Winter Weather Advisories are also in effect for portions of the Southeast including Juneau, Wrangell and Petersburg through this afternoon, for up to 5 inches of snow expected.

Special Weather Statements have been issued for most of Southeast Alaska for a wintry mix of precipitation Wednesday and the potential for a significant storm on Friday.
