Significant Issues:

- SEOC continues monitoring and regular contact with communities at greatest risk for coastal flooding. Impacts for Western Alaska Thursday into Friday increased coastal winds, high surf, locally heavy precipitation.
- Coastal Flooding now anticipated to remain only at Advisory Level and not reach Warning Level criteria.
- Substantial infrastructure and residential flooding NOT expected based upon storm track, wind direction, and moon phase.

Community status

- Kivalina:
  - Under 5 still evacuated. Concerns for water system unfounded as when power was restored, system was restored. Red Cross deploying support personnel.
  - Community ready for additional storms

SEOC status

- Remains at Level 2 of 4, Enhanced Watch.
- SEOC Enhanced Watch will continue throughout the week as additional storms are forecast for the West Coast. The continuing sequence of storms allows limited time for water levels to recede.
